

Capture the memories . . . with the 2009 Evangel Commencement Video!

It won't be long before Evangel graduates will be walking the line and receiving that hard-earned diploma. This once-in-a-lifetime experience for your loved one should be preserved on DVD. Yes, snapshots and home video are great, but why not complement these with a copy of the official Commencement DVD produced by Evangel Cable Television?

The DVD uses five high-quality video cameras strategically placed in the auditorium to capture the entire program plus a closeup of your graduate receiving his or her diploma. Special care is taken to provide full coverage of this experience, including many audience shots of graduates during the ceremony. ECTV is also offering the Baccalaureate/Awards Ceremony on video, which takes place the day before graduation. Both videos are produced using high-quality professional cameras and include the complete audio soundtrack from the auditorium sound system. See the question and answer insert for more information. Visit www.CrusaderMedia.com for video clips of graduation and baccalaureate videos.
